

Field Trips

Farmers attending a cross visit.

District extension staff developing extension plans for working with new villages in 2005.

Farmer showing her dried stylo to district extension staff at Ban Sip Et, Xieng Ngeun district.

Farmers and extension staff learning together:
in the field (above) and in the ute (below).

Farmer from Ban Phongam at his forage plot which has been grazed by goats.

Pigs eating stylo in pen with farmer looking on — stylo is one of the new forage varieties that has been introduced to smallholders in Laos.

